The Indiana Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 26.—The Indiana democratic convention, which assembled this morning, was largely attended, more than usual interest being manifested in the outcome of the day's work by reason of the bitter feeling that has been engendered between friends of Governor Gray and ex-Senator McDonald, who is announced on Wednesday address from the latter to his friends throughout the state in which the senator says some very uncomplimentary things about the governor. An incident that added to the interest was the fact that John E. Sullivan, one of the men indicted for participating in the ballot forgeries, was a persistent candidate for delegate to the St. Louis convention from the seventh district. The day's work was shaped to a large extent by the fight which elected district delegates to the national convention, which assembled at 10 o'clock. The committee on permanent organization then reported, recommending Charles J. Jewett for chairman. John G. Shanklin and John H. Holliday were named as delegates at large to the national convention. District delegates are the last given out last night. After this announcements were announced the report unanimously adopted. Mr. Jewett then addressed the convention. In the course of his remarks, in a glowing tribute to the administration of President Cleveland, he suggested that the next ticket be Cleveland and Gray. He was met with wild cheering and continued applause. The same was the case when the name of Hendricks was mentioned.

Roland C. Mason was nominated for governor. The nominations were made and William H. Myers was named for lieutenant governor.

Hon. H. English, chairman of the committee on resolutions, submitted a report to the convention. It renews the pledge of fidelity to the constitution and the democratic doctrines taught by the founders of the party, and denounces the republican party for its efforts to deprive the local governments of any of its powers reserved by the constitution. The whole country is congratulated upon the wise administration of Cleveland. That executive is heartily commended for his labors to discharge the duties of his great office in the interest of the people. There can be no question but he has succeeded so well as a matter of pride and gratification to every citizen who elected him, as he should be to all his countrymen. Not only fully maintained his honesty or integrity, but his acts have not only been clean and above suspicion. The country is at peace with all the world, the laws are well administered, good order and quiet prevail wherever the executive control, and the whole country is in a state of unparalleled prosperity under his wise and beneficent administration. We the democrats of Indiana feel that we would be unwise to risk the hazards of a change, and declare themselves especially in favor of his renomination. The plank opposing the hoarding of money in the treasury beyond the needs of a proper administration of the government, insists that taxes on imports should be reduced to the lowest point consistent with an efficiency in the public service, and favors revision of the tariff as recommended in the president's message.

The platform furthermore declares that preference in making appointments to office should be given those who harmonize in principle and policy with the party having the responsibility of administration, that legislation should be had to protect the interest of labor, to promote harmony between labor and capital, that it is the duty of the government to repossess itself of all forfeited railroad lands and that laws should be enacted to prevent the ownership of large bodies of lands by corporations or aliens. The sale of intoxicants should be controlled by the license system; condemns the action of the republican party in the last general assembly as revolutionary, declares that the democratic party favors fair and honest elections, and liberal legislation in behalf of labor, and concludes with an endorsement of the administration of Governor Gray. The district delegates to the national convention to cast their vote as a unit and as long as his name is before the convention for the vice presidency.

The platform was unanimously adopted.

For Governor Myers was nominated secretary of state, and for auditor of state A. A. Mimson for treasurer of state. J. R. Byrnes, John R. Wilson were named for attorney general and A. C. Shortridge for superintendent of public instruction. After which the convention adjourned.

When He Proposes to Make it Warm for the Tall Sycamore.

Anti-Saloon Republicans.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Chairman of the executive committee of the Anti-Saloon Republican party, which recently held a convention in Pittsburg, Pa., and nominated a ticket, has issued a call for a meeting of the committee, including several others who have been elected to membership, to be held in this city on May 1st. The call says that the party has been strongly endorsed in the movement to take the party out of politics and to make it a power for the suppression of the liquor traffic.

The Attack on Ingalls.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Ingalls gave notice in the senate that on Tuesday next he would reply to the attacks made upon him yesterday in his absence by Senator Voorhees, and would call attention to singular omissions by that senator in his recitals of the political situation, its attitude toward labor, etc.

Eighth Congress.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Coggeshall, from the committee on judiciary, reported favorably with amendments the bill to authorize the appointment of a commissioner to represent the United States at the international exposition at Paris in 1889. The bill was passed. It fixes the appropriation at $100,000. The senate then resumed consideration of the railroad land forfeiture bill, and Palmer proceeded to argue against all grants of public lands to railroad companies, whether by the government or by the states. He was followed by Platt, who spoke in favor of the bill. Platt was followed by Hoar, who opposed the bill. Hoar was followed by Gorman, who spoke in favor of the bill. Gorman

JOHN CAMPBELL, Chairman.
J. W. D. STOVER, Secretary.

The sympathies of most people were with Senator Voorhees in his defense of the "superb" Hancock. But it was hardly necessary to ignore Meade and give Hancock the entire credit of winning the battle of Gettysburg. The country owes Hancock a debt for his services on the third of July, 1863, which it never did repay, but the credit for winning the battle of Gettysburg belongs to the commander, General Meade, more than to any other man. Many corps commanders did splendid service in that battle. They fought desperately with their men. More high officers were killed and wounded in that battle than in any other battle of the war. The commanders of the first corps was killed. Hancock, Doubleday, and Gibbons, all commanding corps, were severely wounded. Four brigadier-generals were killed, three major-generals other than those mentioned above and also six brigadier-generals were wounded. But of all distinguished services saving only Meade's of that day of great deeds Hancock has universally been considered to have rendered the first.

The Denver News seems to be a little sensitive over some criticisms made on Patterson's change of front. Of course his endorsement of Cleveland does not carry with it endorsement of Cleveland's views on silver coinage or the wool tariff, any more than the endorsement of Hayes, Arthur and Garfield carried with it endorsement of their views on silver coinage. It is hardly fair to raise such points. But the point that can be raised against Mr. Patterson is this, that when Mr. Cleveland undertook to keep his pledges made to the people to carry out a system of civil service reform, he was roundly denounced and opposed by Mr. Patterson and all his friends in Colorado. At the time Mr. Patterson was denouncing him, Mr. Cleveland needed friendly hands, because he was having to [illegible] opposition within his own party. There was nothing too kind that could be said of Cleveland at this time if Mr. Patterson is sincere in praising Cleveland now, he must have changed his views on some of the radical questions of public policy. Two years ago nine-tenths of the democratic press said anti-Cleveland, simply because he said he would keep his pledges. Now, nine-tenths of the democratic party are for him, but not because they have changed their views, but because they see that Cleveland's policy has strength and the party must [illegible] his nomination affords the only chance of success. The democratic party would be much more respected if at St. Louis it would adopt the common sentiments of the people as to the [illegible] in Washington to-day, or the more recent utterances of David B. Hill. David B. Hill is a far more representative man among the democrats to-day than President Cleveland. His utterances have frequently fired the democratic heart when Cleveland on the same subjects only threw wet blankets over them.

The Denver Republican interviewed General Manager Stone of the Burlington, when in Denver and utters the last wail over the result of the strike. If the workingmen in Denver had any idea of the true issue they would probably take pains to rebuke and repudiate the position of the Republican. It has ignored all the real issues from the beginning and has urged the poor engineers to continue to strike with the repeated assurance that the strike would be successful. The Republican evidently had some influence on these engineers and these engineers now find themselves without a job. This strike is the only one of the kind on record where, without a single dissenting voice, the Chicago papers took a bold stand [illegible] side. Three leaders were published in the center of the leaflet. Arthur and Sargent were daily seen, as well as the Burlington managers, and the newspapers were able to understand the subject fully. As the result, they all sided with the Burlington road. This is pretty strong testimony to the justice of the cause of the road and to the foolishness of the men. There are usually plenty of newspapers which will take the side of the laboring man, right or wrong, for the simple reason that the laboring man has the most votes and can furnish more subscribers. But the matter was so plain that a Chicago paper had the audacity to take the side of the strikers. The two thousand men who have lost their positions and are now looking for employment cannot complain that the Colorado papers, and those whose pay the engineers in Denver, can make this complaint against the Republican and ought to do so. There was less excuse for the Republican making the mistake than the men, because the former had a chance to know the truth if it had chosen to.

The Denver World shows how the railroads ruin the state, in a very bright article, from which we take the following:

The railroads are ruling Colorado. It is impossible that whatever part of the press remains uncorrupted by the enormous subsidies lavished by these corporations on all newspapers—it is time, we say, that whatever piece of the press remains uncorrupted, and preserves a scintilla of American patriotism, should unite in rousing the people of this noble commonwealth to the dangers that threaten them from these soulless corporations and see the heroic spirit of pioneer manhood to strike down the enemies of our people before the shackles are hopelessly and forever welded upon limbs born for freedom. The roads have robbed us, ruined us and their evil work goes on. They have corrupted the newspapers of the state—all but that single sheet, the Denver Republican, which stands like a [illegible] defending the liberties and help the prosperity of the people. The railroads have [illegible] freedom from the press, the last bulwark of freedom, and in its place [illegible] and [illegible] they [illegible] and [illegible] impulse of patriotism and commercial sense should have moved it decisively to condemn. They have bribed our legislators to let them go on building new lines when every legislator with the brains of an oyster knows perfectly well that the thing to do, and the thing that the people wanted, above all to enact laws that would make the building of more railroads in Colorado impossible.

Pursuing their nefarious schemes of plunder they have invaded our farms in all directions, ruined our agriculture, by bringing the price of flour down from $5 a sack to about a twentieth of that figure. They have robbed not only our honest farmers, but have plunged into the heart of our mountains, which used to peace and idleness before their advent, and rendered the erstwhile idyllic existence of our sturdy miners absorbing nightmare of whirling, dizzy enterprise, by encouraging them to hypothecate their acclamation on twenty dollars a ton, when a few years ago their proud souls scorned to devote anything worth less than a thousand.

JOHN CAMPBELL, Chairman.
E. WILLETT, Secretary.

Fitz Mac thinks that the president has come around to Mr. Patterson rather than that Mr. Patterson has gone over to the president. We should be sorry if this is so, and it would be all the more reason why it is dangerous to have Cleveland reelected. The Colorado democracy had a fight with Cleveland because he persisted in regarding public office as a public trust, and because he chose to keep pledges which he made to the people of this country while he was a candidate. The fight with Cleveland began because he did not choose to delegate this public trust to some politicians out in Colorado. However, in this particular instance, we think Fitz-Mac has made a mistake. Politicians in the democratic party do not like Cleveland personally any better than they did two years ago, but they realize that they can only win with Cleveland at the head of the ticket. This is the sum and substance of the enthusiasm for Cleveland that exists among the democratic leaders, who two years ago were swearing at him.

A few weeks ago General A. W. Greeley, chief signal officer, read a paper before the Washington Philosophical Society on the rainfall of the country west of the Mississippi. This paper has called forth a great deal of discussion. It is but a little over twenty years ago that General Sherman, while conversing with an old resident of this city, pointing out what was then known as the Great American desert, stretching from the eastern borders of Kansas through the Rocky mountain region, said: "That country is absolutely good for nothing." He had been over the country himself and was judging by what he thought was experience. His views were corroborated by a great number of other explorers. But each year settlers have gone farther and farther west, until now Kansas and Nebraska are settled almost to their western borders. At first it was thought that possibly there had been a greater increase of rainfall, but from observations which have been conducted at many places from six to twenty-six years (the briefer periods being in the more western stations), it appears that there has not been an increase greater than four tenths of one inch. The simple fact is that much less rainfall is needed than was supposed a few years ago to raise crops without irrigation. Gen. Greeley fixes the minimum at twenty inches, but Professor Gilbert, who is probably more correct, objects to unsafe to state the minimum without qualifications, so much depends upon the time the rain falls and the rapidity with which the evaporation takes place. The fact that scientific men have directed their attention to this subject will be of incalculable help to this country. We find now that the area of American land is fruitful enough to support an empire. All we want to know now is its limits. In portions of Colorado crops are raised easily at the present time without irrigation. This is particularly true of the divide. Where the line ends north and south of the divide for agriculture without irrigation is still unknown. Many settlers are trying the experiment about Granger and the result is now being watched with considerable interest.

Mr. W. M. [illegible] has [illegible] that the [illegible] of [illegible] Mr. Dingley in his reply made what he thought was a crushing argument by declaring the decline in our ocean shipping was greater from 1861 to 1865 when the navy was on the [illegible] for revenue only, than it has been since. This is a very superficial way of looking at the question. Up to 1860, a large proportion of the shipping was in sailing vessels, or if in steamers, in steamers with wooden bottoms. At that time this country undoubtedly had a supremacy because we could build wooden vessels cheaper than England could. England was wise then and escaped from the experience that we have had by permitting English merchants to buy American ships and sail them under the British flag. In the various improvements that have taken place in transportation, steam took the place of sailing vessels and finally steel of wooden vessels. It was soon apparent that neither the sailing vessel nor the wooden steamer could compete with the steel ship built on the Clyde. Under our shipping laws no American can raise the American flag over a British bottom. As we could not afford to build iron ships as cheaply as they could be built abroad, and as the laws would not allow our merchantmen to buy English vessels we are now doing but fifteen per cent of our foreign trade. If we had followed the example of Great Britain, when she gave her merchants free shipping laws, we should without trouble have retained our supremacy on the ocean and carried our commerce in our own ships. But certain men preferred to pursue a "dog in the manger" policy by keeping our oppressive shipping laws on the statute books. We did not save our shipping nor help our ship buildings. We simply forced our merchants to do all their shipping in ships sailing under the English flag. It does not injure the ship builders on the Clyde because they have practically built all the vessels that are used in the trade. It has only [illegible] the ship builders from building a part of them for Americans instead of all for the English. Protection that really protects American labor and industries is equitable, but protection that is held on to simply as a matter of theory to the injury of the business and commerce of this country is neither wise nor patriotic.

STATE NEWS.

Charles Dickens, jr., is to make a lecture tour of the state.

The anniversary of Odd Fellowship was observed extensively throughout the state.

A very rich strike of bronze silver has been made in the Lackawanna mine at Silverton.

It is reported that [illegible] will succeed the late Holden [illegible] at Parliament Monday.

Assistant U. S. Attorney R. S. Robbins of Colorado attempted to commit suicide at Denver on Thursday by cutting his throat. The cause for his rash deed is ascribed to be the result of extreme dissipation.

Condition of Trade.

NEW YORK, April 27. R. G. Dun & Co. in their weekly review of trade say: The situation is unusually confused. Advancing markets for stocks and for grains contradict each other. Western reports as to probable crops are more definitely unfavorable, but buying of stocks, no longer entirely by professionals, continues as if much larger traffic for the future were assured. Western [illegible] in a position to command disposition, and exchanges at western cities generally indicate a larger volume of business, while large eastern cities, Cincinnati, Cleveland and New Orleans, report smaller clearings than last year. Until within the past year or two it always happened that a shrinkage in transactions at eastern centers was soon followed by decreasing trade elsewhere. But there are many who believe a new state of things has come in that respect. Reports of business transacted are by no means uniformly favorable. At New Orleans the movement is light. Detroit and Milwaukee report quiet in trade, but at most other western points some improvement is noted. Collections are better at St. Paul and Kansas City, but slow or unsatisfactory at points in Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin.

The general average of prices is now a little lower than it has been at any other time since January 1st, notwithstanding an advance of 4 per cent in breadstuffs and one half on meats. Manufactured and imported articles are generally about 4 per cent lower than at the beginning of the year. It becomes more clear that the prevailing tendency of prices and wages is toward a lower level.

Business failures during the last seven days number for the United States 193, for Canada 30, a total of 223, as compared with 195 last week and 191 for the corresponding week of last year.

A Desperado Captured.

LIBERTYVILLE, Texas, April 27.—Says Whitely, a notorious outlaw and train robber, who with John Barbour is suspected of the murder of Deputy Sheriff Scanlay, was captured yesterday after a hard fight. Two deputy sheriffs met Whitely and Barbour on the road ten miles north of here. Barbour fell upon his horse and made his escape, but Whitely dropping himself on the side of his horse fired at the officers from under his neck. The fire was returned. Whitely's horse being killed and Whitely badly wounded. There is a reward of $150 for the capture of each of these desperadoes.

THE FIRST PRIZE—Shall be for papering ceiling and walls with the very best hand-made Embossed Paper in our store, the lucky party to select the paper. The wood work to be painted or stained to match the paper.

SECOND PRIZE—The ceiling and walls to be papered with Colored Bronze Paper; wood work painted or stained to match.

THIRD PRIZE—The ceiling and walls papered with a flat paper, that is, a paper without gilt; wood work painted or stained to match.

Then all tickets shall be placed in a revolving wheel and a disinterested party blind-folded shall draw out one ticket, which shall indicate the owner of the first prize. THE GAZETTE.

SATURDAY, APRIL 28, 1888.

Mr. A. R. Wood, a prominent Denver attorney, was in the city on business yesterday.

The contract has been let for putting a roof over the grand stand on the new Athletic grounds.

The rain of yesterday will be an untold blessing to the farmers and ranchmen of the county.

Mr. William Clark, the florist, has recently set out 400 ash trees along the streets in Boulder Heights addition.

Rev. H. H. Bell, of the United Presbyterian church, will preach at the city hall to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Read Mr. A. Armentrout's advertisement if you wish to see some rare bargains in spring and summer clothing and gentlemen's furnishings.

The Stevens-Merrill aldermanic contest will probably engage the attention of the city council at its regular meeting a week from next Monday night.

Frank Daniels "Little Puck" company consists of twenty-one people. They will appear at the opera house Saturday evening May 5.

When the two switches are put in on the Colorado City extension of the street railway between this city and Colorado City the road will be ready to put into active operation.

During the past winter Signal Officer Sherwood made the ascent of the Peak on horseback every trip. This is the first winter in record in which this has been accomplished.

Ericson & Gough are now serving ice cream daily in their parlors next to the postoffice. They are also prepared to promptly fill all orders for ice cream and

The opening game of base ball which was to have taken place yesterday afternoon between the Colorado Springs club and the Pastimes, and which was prevented by the rain, will be played next Tuesday afternoon.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church desire to publicly express their thanks to Messrs. Callaway and Stark for their kindness in donating the proceeds of a day's business to the building fund of the new church.

The adjourned annual meeting of the state practical cattle growers association will be held at the city hall this afternoon. The officers for the ensuing year are to be elected and important business considered. It is desired that there should be a large attendance.

Messrs. Russell & Alexander have received the contract for laying 11,000 feet of three and four inch pipe in the alleys in West Colorado Springs. The contract calls for the completion of the work by June 1st, though the pipe will probably all be laid by May 15th.

The assessor's office is now open to receive the tax schedules. Assessor Perkins will observe his office hours from 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m. and after May 1st for the accommodation of mechanics and laboring men generally the assessor will be in his office at 6 a. m. and remain until 8 p. m.

Colonel E. T. Ensign, state forestry commissioner, has recently returned from a trip throughout the eastern and northeastern portions of the state. He was surprised to notice the rapidity with which eastern Colorado is being settled, and the flourishing condition of its numerous small towns.

It has been suggested that the advantages of El Paso county for agricultural and farming purposes could be accurately determined if some enterprising organization or individual would put up a dozen rain gauges for distribution, the amount of rainfall and distribute them in different sections of the county.

County Surveyor H. I. Reid has nearly completed the platting of the land for the Cheyenne Lake, Land and Park company. About 160 acres will be platted into villa lots, all of which will be in immediate proximity to the large reservoir. The reservoir will be fully completed by the middle of next week.

Curtis and Irving offer some rare bargains in Fountain property this morning. This growing little town is now engaging the attention of a large number of Colorado and Kansas real estate investors. The opportunities for investment which it offers are so favorable that they are being rapidly improved.

Now that the season for summer tourists is rapidly approaching, numerous inquiries have been made as to when the bridge over the Fountain on the Bear creek road will be built? County Commissioner Skinner when asked this question yesterday, referred the questioner to Commissioners Plumb and Woodbury.

Carlile, Price & Co., who have received the contract for building the toll road to the summit of the peak from Cascade, expect to begin work with a large force of men and teams next week. The contractors intended to look over the ground yesterday, but were prevented from doing so by the rain. The contract calls for the completion of the road by July 1st. Its cost is estimated at $25,000.

On Thursday evening, May 3d, the pupils of the mute and blind institute will give another entertainment at the opera house. We feel sure in stating that all who attend will be amply paid. The entertainment will be in every sense an enjoyable one, and the proceeds will be applied to the purchase of a stereopticon for the scholars' use. It is so seldom that this institution appeals to the public for their patronage that we trust there will be a liberal and hearty response. We will publish the programme in full in a few days.

The gentleman who purchased the Tenney property north of the city limits as well as a few days ago intended to place the Holden ditch, better known as the Tenney ditch, in thorough repair. County Surveyor Reid who has charge of the work, states that 1500 feet of the ditch will be re-located and repaired. Besides this 1496 feet is a large flume 60 feet long beginning at the point where the water is taken out of Monument creek. The Tenney ditch is the ditch which is claimed to be ultimately extended to the natural irrigating reservoir southeast of the Deaf Mute institute. It has been suggested in view of the probable use of the ditch for this purpose, that the city should acquire an interest in or effect a lease of the ditch.

In spite of the disagreeable weather that prevailed all of yesterday and last night quite a number of the young men of the city responded to the call for a meeting to organize a republican club. Mr. John Campbell called the meeting to order and proposed the election of a temporary chairman. Mr. A. B. Brisbin was elected temporary chairman, and Mr. L. H. Gouldy was chosen as temporary secretary. Mr. Brisbin stated that the meeting was called to take action in the forming of a club of the young republicans of the city, and after the appointing of committees to secure a permanent organization and suitable quarters would be proper business to come before the meeting. On motion a committee of five, to include the chairman, was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws. The chair appointed as that committee S. H. Kinsley, F. A. Colby, Frank A. Perkins and Frank Howbert. C. W. Fairley, S. N. Francis and A. G. Draper were appointed a committee to secure permanent quarters for the club. On motion the meeting then adjourned subject to the call of the temporary chairman.

REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND INSURANCE.

Special Attention Given to the Collection of Rent, Interest, Etc., and the Care of Property of Persons out of Town.

Insurance Carefully Written in First-Class Companies Only.

Losses Promptly and Satisfactorily Adjusted

STRANGERS, and others not posted in our Real Estate Market, often ask the question, "Where can I best invest my money to be sure of Quick and Profitable returns?"

1st. I would say, select a locality where you have the assurance of GRAND MOUNTAIN SCENERY, etc.

2nd. See that you locate where you can enjoy the high WATER ADVANTAGES. Property without water in this country is a desert and worthless. BEST WATER ADVANTAGES. Our water supply for irrigating purposes, which is very important, but also for HOME DECORATION. Our water supply at present is limited, and no doubt in a few years will be worth many times its present value, every drop will be needed inside present City limits.

3rd. Do not locate where lots are too low in price—Low priced LOTS usually low priced HOUSES—and a PALACE surrounded by shanties will never sell for half its value. Better economize in other ways and secure a lot that will increase in value.

4th. Dont wait until the "Rock Island" comes in and then pay 2½ per cent more than present rates.

5th. "Lastly," call and see us and we will convince you that "BOULDER HEIGHTS" possesses all the above advantages.

The Granger Land and Town Co.

Now Offers For Sale the Entire

Town Site of Granger,

EL PASO COUNTY, COLORADO.

GRANGER is situated on the line of the Denver, Texas & Gulf R. R., about 18 miles northeast of Colorado Springs, in the center of the best Agricultural District in Colorado. The rainfall is sufficient to perfect good crops, and irrigation is entirely unnecessary. All the available land within a radius of twenty-five miles has been taken up by bona fide settlers, and improvements are rapidly being made on all the occupied land.

Water can be obtained within 10 feet of the surface on the entire Town Site. The streets are all 80 feet in width, and the lots are all 50x150, excepting the business lots, which are 50x150 feet. The town lies on both sides of the railroad. The Surveyed Line of THE CHICAGO AND ROCK ISLAND RAILROAD Runs Parallel with that of the DENVER, TEXAS & GULF RAILROAD through the Center of the Town, and forms a Junction with the latter at this point, and will be the Construction Headquarters of Rock Island Extension in Colorado. Granger is destined to become an important town in the near future by reason of its location. It is an Objective Point on the lines of all the Railroads now heading for the Rocky Mountains, and also from the fact that it is located in a Rich and Fertile Region, where good water is reached at a shallow depth. It is an important Shipping point on the D., T. & G. R. R. for a large section of country. In the matter of business handled Granger ranks third on the line of the road.

The lots will be sold on the popular Allotment Plan, as follows:

PRICE: $25.00 Each.

The drawing for location, due notice of which will be given, will occur not later than May 1st next, and will be conducted by a competent committee selected by the certificate holders. The company will include in the drawing every alternate lot in the entire town site as platted, beginning with lot 1 in each block, reserving only numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 15 and 16 in block 1; number 14 in block 2; numbers 1, 21 and 22 in block 11; numbers 17, 18 and 32 in block 12; numbers 17 and 16 in block 21; number 18 in block 22; number 17 in block 31, numbers 1, 2 and 3 in Block 41, and Block [illegible].

All these lots have been sold and deeded. The object of reserving this each alternate lot throughout the entire plat, and selling the other at the low price of $25, when there is not a lot in the entire site but what is well worth $100 (some of the reserved lots above mentioned have been sold at this figure), is to enhance the value of property reserved by inducing the purchasers to build, and improve over the entire plat. After the drawing prices will be advanced on lots reserved. Lots will be for sale for only a limited time at the following places:
